Author's Note

I don't have much to say. I never saw this getting over 500 views, so the fact that we have almost 30k is absolutely bonkers. I wanna thank you all so much for reading, voting, and commenting on this. Y'all really do rule! On a different note, I don't usually do this, but I just found a poem that I found really well written and emotion-evoking. So, if y'all have time, go check out the poem "Echoes of Unrequited Love" by Sheisruki on Wattpad.

Welcome

A/N - Why hello there, dear reader! My name is Spruceflight and this is my Warrior Cats OC Generator! In this you will receive a:

A) Name

B) Gender

C) Appearance

D) Rank and Clan

E) Personality

F) Kin

G) Backstory

Make sure that you click the "Vote" button, a little gray star, on every chapter. It's a simple, easy thing for you guys to do, that helps get this generator more widely known. Also, if you would like your OC to be posted in the "Your Goes OC Here" pages, make sure to comment your OC! I also have an OC rating book, so make sure to check that out. Thanks so much!

Ripplewish is a large, strong, long-furred dark gray tom with amber eyes, lighter tabby stripes, and black mittens. He is currently a warrior of ShadowClan. He is a bit arrogant and rude, but also honest, loyal, and helpful. He has 1 litter of 2 kits with his mate, Squirrelears, a red she-cat with brown eyes, a bushy tail, and sharp hearing. What did you get?

Backstory (Warrior)

A/N - For this, you'll need a number generator from 1 - 5. In the warrior section, you can change Applepaw's prefix if you or your mate have that prefix. These first ones are for warriors. The next one will be for medicine cats.

Kithood

1 - As a kit, you used to love watching the sky, especially at night. You loved staring up at the twinkling stars of Silverpelt, watching the warriors of StarClan. A lot of the other kits made fun of you for it, but not (your mate's prefix here)kit.

2 - As a kit, you used to love playing moss ball with the other kits. You loved it when you won. You loved it when someone else won. You just loved it!

3 - As a kit, you were always practicing your hunting crouch and wrestling with the other kits. You would find any way possible to help the clan, even if it met checking the elders for ticks early on.

4 - As a kit, you would play a lot. One of your favorite games was playing "Clan." You loved being (insert prefix here)star of (insert clan name here)Clan. You always felt like it was your destiny to be leader.

5 - As a kit, you were the more gentle type. You stayed to yourself, and when cats came to talk to you, you were kind and friendly. Everyone loved and saw you as a kind, patient, cat. You liked everyone in the Clan and didn't mind talking to them, but the only cat you would voluntarily talk to is (insert mate's prefix)kit.

Apprenticeship

1 - As an apprentice, you always struggled with hunting, but excelled with fighting. You could beat all the other apprentices, even if they were older than you. You could even beat some of the warriors! With your swift movements and strong blows, you could beat any cat, even with sheathed claws.

2 - As an apprentice, you always loved sprawling out in the sun and sharing gossip with your clanmates. Sure, you liked hunting and fighting, but who wouldn't like basking in the sun, feeling it rays warm your fur, feeling relaxation conquer your weary muscles.

3 - As an apprentice, you worked non-stop. Even in your free time, when most cats were sharing tongues, you were out hunting, reciting the warrior code, or practicing battle moves. Your favorite cat in the whole world, (insert mate's name here)paw, would always happily practice with you.

4 - As an apprentice, you started developing feelings for your best friend, (insert mate's name here)paw. You had started to notice the pull of their hypnotizing eyes, and you noticed how beautiful/ handsome they were. When you turned 11 moons, you confessed your feelings to them, and they admitted they also had a crush on you.

5 - As an apprentice, you loved doing border patrols. It gave you such a thrill! The adrenaline pumping in your veins when you caught a different clan's scent in your territory. The delight of setting borders and keeping other clans firmly out. The relief of coming back successfully from a patrol, knowing that your clan was safe.

Warriorhood (Is this the right word lol)

1 - Once you became a warrior, you and your long-time crush, (insert mate's name here), became mates. You had your first apprentice, Applepaw, very early on. You loved being a mentor, and thought you were very good at it. You were very proud when Applepaw became a warrior and got his full name, Appletalon.

2 - Once you became a warrior, you and your long-time crush, (insert mate's name here), became mates. After a few moons of being a warrior, there was a fox attack on camp. You fought bravely to defend the nursery, and got your first apprentice soon after the battle was over. Your first apprentice, Applepaw, was one of the kits you saved during the fox attack. You couldn't have been more proud of him when he got his full name, Appletalon.

3 - Once you became a warrior, you and your long-time crush, (insert mate's name here), became mates. Soon after your ceremony, you and 5 other warriors went on a journey after several cats went missing. You found they were taken by Twolegs, and brought them home safely. You and the other 5 cats were praised and called the heroes, and after that, you got your first apprentice, Applepaw.

4 - Once you became a warrior, you and your long-time crush, (insert mate's name here), became mates. You and your mate were always hunting together, practicing battle moves together, or racing. When you got your first apprentice, Applepaw, you were over the moon. You loved being a mentor, and Applepaw learned very quickly. You were overjoyed when he got his full name, Appletalon.

5 - Once you became a warrior, you and your long-time crush, (insert mate's name here), became mates. You got your first apprentice, Applepaw, a few moons after becoming a warrior. One day while hunting, Applepaw chased a pheasant onto the Thunderpath. His front legs were broken, so he couldn't train for a long time.

Backstory (Medicine Cat)

A/N - This section is a backstory for medicine cats. I will supply 3 different complete backstories for you guys to choose from. You can also mix and match some details from each backstory to make your own.

Backstory 1

As a kit, you always had a love for herbs. You would often find yourself sitting in the medicine den, watching Berrywhisker (change prefix to Leaf- if needed) treat sick or injured cats or watching him sort herbs. He had started to teach you a little about them and you were mesmerized. When the time came for your apprenticeship, Berrywhisker asked you to be his apprentice, and you happily accepted. You absolutely loved being a medicine cat. You loved going to the Moonpool/Moonstone to share tongues with StarClan. You loved treating your clanmates with different remedies and seeing them heal. When the time came, Berrywhisker gave you your full medicine cat name, and you were overjoyed. You continued serving your clan as their medicine cat for many moons. You took on an apprentice, Seedpaw, and loved mentoring her. You loved seeing her eyes light up when she figured something out. You loved being a medicine cat.

Backstory 2

As a kit, you loved helping your clanmates. You had always cared for them, so it was no surprise that Berrywhisker asked you to be his apprentice. You hesitated before accepting. You had a lot of doubts at first, but quickly picked up on what you needed to do. You were very good at interpreting omens and dreams from StarClan, and good at treating cats as well, so you got your medicine cat name very quickly. Soon after you became a full medicine cat, Berrywhisker died, leaving you as the sole medicine cat for your clan. You took on an apprentice very soon, Seedpaw. She quickly learned the ways of a medicine cat, and as you grew old, you felt so much pride for how self-sufficient and caring she was. You knew you were leaving your clan in good paws.

Backstory 3

As a kit, you had always thought you would be a warrior. When you became a warrior apprentice, you found it didn't suit you as well as you would've liked. You kept doing your training, though. You soon got your warrior name, but then took interest in being the medicine cat apprentice. Berrywhisker was a bit unsure at first, but soon accepted. It took you a while to get used to all the different herbs, and to learn the ways of a medicine cat. But you soon picked up on it, and became a double-threat. Berrywhisker died soon after you completed your training, and you grieved the loss of your beloved mentor along with the rest of the clan. You vowed on his name to be the best medicine cat you could. You took on an apprentice, Seedpaw, very soon, and were surprised at her quick-learning and wits. You had never felt more proud than you did when you gave her her full medicine cat name. As you lived out your days, you had never been happier.

My OC!

A/N - So because the backstory section was so long, I decided not to put my results there. But anyway, here is the unveiling of my OC!

Ripplewish is a large, strong, long-furred dark gray tom with amber eyes, lighter tabby stripes, and black mittens. He is currently a warrior of ShadowClan. He is a bit arrogant and rude, but also honest, loyal, and helpful. He and his mate, Squirrelears, have 2 kits, Bumbletail and Russetflight. As a kit, he was always practicing his hunting crouch and wrestling with the other kits. He would find any way possible to help the clan, even if it meant checking the elders for ticks early on. As an apprentice, he loved doing border patrols. It gave him such a thrill! The adrenaline pumping in his veins when you caught a different clan's scent in his territory. The delight of setting borders and keeping other clans firmly out. The relief of coming back successfully from a patrol, knowing that his clan was safe. Once he became a warrior, him and his long-time crush, Squirrelears, became mates. After a few moons of being a warrior, there was a fox attack on camp. He fought bravely to defend the nursery, and got his first apprentice soon after the battle was over. His first apprentice, Applepaw, was one of the kits he saved during the fox attack. Ripplewish couldn't have been more proud of him when he got his full name, Appletalon.

So there's my OC! What did you get? Tell me in the comments! If you want your OC from this generator on one of the next pages, comment your OC and "WAFFLES" on one of the "Your OC Goes Here" pages.

Ripplewing

A/N - This is the result of @Eagle_XD from this generator! You could have your OC up here too! Just comment your OC!

Ripplewing is a ThunderClan warrior tom with blue eyes, a blue-grey pelt, lighter tabby stripes, and a fully white tail. He has long fur and a tall, slim build. He is feisty and slightly arrogant, yet caring, shy, and optimistic/cheerful!

Willowpaw

A/N - This is Weeranica's OC from the generator!

Willowpaw is a RiverClan warrior apprentice with yellow eyes, medium-length cream fur, light swirls, white mittens, and a tall, slim build. She is cautious, sometimes childish, a bit rude, calm, and creative. She'll have 1 litter of kits in the future.

Backstory

Kithood: Number 5

Apprenticeship: Number 2

Warriorhood (Future): Number 3

Raindawn

Thank you Just-Starl1ng for the submission

Name: Raindawn

Gender: Agender

Eye color: Blue

Pelt color: Cream

Markings: Blue-gray flecks, black socks

Build: Short

Clan: RiverClan

Rank: Deputy

Personality: Greedy, Arrogant, and Cunning, but Childish and Bold

Kits: None

Mate: Skyfire

Backstory: Hardworking kit and apprentice to put it shortly. Nobody really seemed to noticed them as a warrior but that was better for them, as they didn't care about being noticed nor did they want attention.

Smokeflower

A/N - This is quackburz's OC from the generator.

Smokeflower is a ThunderClan warrior and a tom-cat. He is a large, medium-furred, strong brown tabby with black tail rings, a black muzzle, black mittens and ear tips, as well as lighter tabby stripes. Smokeflower has amber eyes. Smokeflower is doubtful and annoying, and somewhat vain, but also playful and active.

As a kit, Smokeflower was always practicing his hunting crouch and wrestling with the other kits. He would find any way possible to help his Clan, even if it meant checking the elders for ticks early-on.

As an apprentice, it was clear that Smokeflower struggled with hunting, but excelled in fighting. He could beat all the other apprentices, even if they were older than him. He could even beat some of the full-grown and fully-trained warriors! With his swift movements and strong blows, he could beat any cat, even with sheathed claws.

Once Smokeflower became a warrior, he became mates with his long-time crush, Brighttuft. Soon after Smokeflower's ceremony, he and 5 other warrior went on a journey after several cats went missing. They found they were taken by Twolegs, and brought home safely. Smokeflower and the other 5 cats were praised and call heroes, and after that, he got his first apprentice, Applepaw, who was later named Applestorm.

Hawkear

A/N - This is EggOfLove's OC from the generator!

Hawkear is a tall, slim, long-furred golden she-cat with pale gold flecks, white paws, and yellow eyes. She is a RiverClan warrior. She is sometimes rude and doubtful, as well as arrogant, but is also extremely loyal and calm. Her siblings are Rainjaw and Bumbleheart. Brightcry is her mate and she had three litters of kits with him. Her first litter of kits are now well into warriorhood, Badgerwish and Petaljaw. Her second litter of kits are almost down with their apprenticeship and their names are Lemonpaw and Smokepaw. Her most recent litter consists of one kit who she had three moons ago, Fernkit.

As a kit, Hawkear always loved to play mossbal with the other kits. She loved it when she won. She loved it when someone else won. She just loved it!

As an apprentice, she loved doing border patrols. It gave her such a thrill! The adrenaline pumping through her veins when she caught another Clan's scent in her territory. The delight of setting borders and keeping other Clans firmly out. The relief of coming back successfully from a patrol, knowing that her Clan was safe.

Once she became a warrior, her and her long-time crush, Brightcry, became mates. Soon after her ceremony, her and 5 other warriors went on a journey after several cats went missing. They found they were taken by Twolegs, and brought them home safely. Her and the five other cats were praised and called heroes, and after that, she got her very first apprentice, Applepaw.

Cherrypelt

A/N - This is incorrect_username13's OC from the generator.

Cherrypelt is a she-cat and a queen of ThunderClan. She has blue-ish teal eyes, yellow-ish brown short fur with a maroon ear and tail, and and white-ish looking scar over her left eye, blinding it. She has a few tabby stripes that are darker than her fur and has a tall, slim build. She is intelligent, calm, and creative, but can be overprotective and overly cautious. She has one half-sibling on her father's side. She has 2 litters, one of one kit (Hawkkit, later Hawkstripe) and one of four kits; Fallingkit, who was a stillborn, Orangekit, who later becomes Orangeheart, Foxkit who later becomes Foxfeather, and Heatherkit who later becomes Heathermoon.

As a kit, Cherrypelt loved to watch the sky, especially at night. She loved watching the fluffy white clouds drift across the clear blue sky, and at night, she loved watching the shining warriors of StarClan, all the way up in Silverpelt.

As an apprentice, she worked non-stop, even in her free time. While most of the cats were relaxing and sharing tongues, she was out hunting, reciting the Warrior Code, practicing battle moves, and sometimes spending time with her crush and best friend, Nightpaw.

When she became a warrior, she and Nightstripe (Formerly Nightpaw), her long-time crush, became mates. She loved to hunt with him. She got her first apprentice, Beepaw, after turning 26 moons, 6 moons after Hawkkit was born. She loved being a mentor and was quite good at it, and soon enough, Beepaw got his warrior name, Beewing.

Dewflower

I did it again

Dewflower is a she-cat who is the WindClan medicine cat. She has hazel eyes, long white fur, pale gray tabby stripes and tail rings, and is rather short. She is loyal, gentle, and extremely thoughtful/considerate to others, but is nervous and indecisive when lots of people watch her. Her mother was Applegaze, a short white cat with amber eyes and large ears. Her father was Badgerflight, a pale grey cat with black stripes and hazel eyes. Her sister is Lilyjaw, a pale grey cat with long fur, amber eyes, and white splotches. Her mate, Willowfrost, is silver with dark grey and pale grey splotches and green eyes. He is the ThunderClan deputy. She has three kits: Dovepaw (later Doveflower), Peachpaw (later Peachfrost), and Pinepaw (later Pinedawn).

(I edited the backstory)

As a kit, you loved helping your clanmates. You had always cared for them, so it was no surprise that Berrywhisker asked you to be his apprentice. You hesitated before accepting. You had a lot of doubts at first, but quickly picked up on what you needed to do. You were very good at interpreting omens and dreams from StarClan, and good at treating cats as well, so you got your medicine cat name very quickly. Soon after you became a full medicine cat, Berrywhisker died, leaving you as the sole medicine cat for your clan. You took on an apprentice very soon, Seedpaw. She quickly learned the ways of a medicine cat, and when you left the clan, you knew you were leaving it in good paws.

Lilyleaf

A/N - This is @SnowySerenity1204 's OC from the generator. Your OC could be up here, too! Just comment on one of the open pages, and POOF!

Lilyleaf is a cream-colored short-hair she-cat with brown eyes and black socks and tail rings, as well as lighter flecks. She is tall and slim, and is currently the RiverClan medicine apprentice. She is very feisty and generous, but is doubtful and is loyal to the point of clingy-ness.

* no backstory has been provided *

Cherrystep

A/N - This is @Rxinyxx 's OC. If you want your OC up here as well, then comment your OC and "WAFFLES" on one of the open pages, and POOF!

Cherrystep is a brown tom-cat with a brown pelt, darker swirls, and white mittens. He has hazel eyes, and a light, lithe build. Cherrystep is currently a rogue and is optimistic, somewhat childish, vain, and cautious. His father, Echowing, is a large, muscular tom-cat with brown fur, darker tabby markings, and bright yellow eyes. His rogue mother, Badgergaze, is a tall and slim she-cat with hazel eyes, medium-length cream fur, darker tabby markings, and black mittens. Cherrystep's sister, Applestar, is a russet-colored she-cat with medium-length fur, yellow eyes, dark flecks, and black socks. Applestar is large and strong and is the current River Clan leader.

* no backstory was provided *
